Coronavirus Update

17th March 2020

The UK Government has recommended measures to limit the spread of the COVID-19 coronavirus, including that wherever possible people work from home, and stop non-essential contact with others and all unnecessary travel. We have put in place contingency plans which enable us to continue operating with a minimal disruption to service whilst most of our staff are working remotely.

We will keep our website with any changes, but at this time we request that:

- any applications for registration are scanned in and sent to us via email or by a file sharing system such as google drive
- registration renewals are undertaken online or via online banking
- degree accreditation submissions are sent in electronic format only
- all enquiries are sent to us via email on enquiries@associationfornutrition.org, or the relevant email address which can be found here

We know that the impact of coronavirus measures on universities might mean some changes for our accredited programmes and we have made a statement here about this.

For AfN Certified courses and Endorsed CPD, it is up to providers to decide on appropriate measures in light of the current situation. Courses and events may be cancelled, postponed or delivered online instead of in person. AfN will continue to certify or endorse this provision provided that the same content is delivered to participants.

Finally, the AfN office move was scheduled for the week commencing 23rd March. In light of the coronavirus measures we will be packing up the existing office earlier than planned. We ask, therefore, that you do not post anything further to our Portland Place address and use electronic communications as outlined above.

Please do bear with us if it takes us slightly longer to respond to your query during this time. It is anticipated that, as with so many of you, we will also have staff who are self-isolating, ill, or caring for family members which will impact on our staff capacity.

Many thanks for your support with these measures and please stay safe.
